NC Human Trafficking Resource Directory

Important Notes

The purpose of this directory is to provide a centralized resource for agencies and groups working to combat human trafficking across the state. The NC Human Trafficking Commission (HTC) has not vetted the organizations or persons listed in this directory. Do not construe placement on this directory as an endorsement or recommendation.

We encourage all users to research and assess each entity by reviewing agency websites, learning agency mission and values, asking questions about policies, procedures, political or religious affiliations, and previewing admission paperwork or client agreements before determining appropriate fit for referrals. The NC Secretary of State website is also a resource to search for information on a business or charity, including charitable solicitation license and non-profit status.

If you are the lead representative of an anti-human trafficking agency or effort and you would like to report incorrect information or a submission for your agency or effort, please notify Ashley Tauscher at Ashley.I.tauscher@nccourts.org.

To search the document for a specific service, organization, or location (county or city), we recommend using control + find (ctrl + f). The directory is organized by type of organization, with the location and services provided included for each organization.

The Tier Ratings in this directory refer to an organization's self-identified specification on human trafficking from the Polaris Project. The tiers do not refer to quality or preference but only to the organization's focus on trafficking. Tiers 1 through 4 indicate the following level of specification:

Tier 1: The organization's primary focus and/or mission is human trafficking.

Tier 2: Human trafficking is part of the organization's focus, but they also focus on other populations. They have a specific human trafficking project or staff person dedicated to human trafficking.

Tier 3: The organization's focus and mission are not focused specifically on human trafficking, but their mission is focused on other high-risk populations or victim services. They have no specific human trafficking project or dedicated staff.

Tier 4: The organization is a general social services organization that is part of the anti-human trafficking effort by accepting referrals, attending training, etc.

Please see "Additional Resources" for relevant resources such as Substance Use, Domestic Violence, Sexual Assault, and Homeless shelter programs.

To ensure a shared, uniform language, the Resource Directory defines the following terms as:

DISCLAIMER: The NC HTC has not vetted the organizations or persons listed in the directory. We encourage you to research and assess each entity.

NC Human Trafficking Resource Directory

Emergency Shelter: An organization provides shelter admission to its target population 24/7 with low barrier requirements (e.g., no application process or requirement to sign a lease or occupancy agreement) for the purpose of safety and initial stabilization.

Housing: Refers to non-emergency shelter housing options, such as transitional housing or shelter, residential programs, or long-term/permanent housing.

Direct Outreach: The organization interacts with potential survivors/victims either for the purpose of providing services or building relationships, such as in jails, homeless shelters, massage parlors, strip clubs, etc.

Education and Awareness: An organization provides trainings and/or engages in activities to raise awareness about trafficking to general public or businesses/employees that may interact with potential survivors/victims of trafficking.

63. Legal Aid of North Carolina, Farmworker Unit

Statewide, Tier 2

Project Description: The Farmworker Unit is a statewide project of Legal Aid of North Carolina committed to providing high quality civil legal services to address the special legal needs of migrant and seasonal farmworkers in North Carolina. We represent individual farmworkers and their families, advising them about their legal rights, and helping them get what the law requires.

Type of work provided: Our case work addresses common issues facing by farmworkers in this state, including: Recovering unpaid wages; Redressing violations of health and safety standards on the job and in housing; Obtaining medical attention and compensation for workers injured on the job; Addressing violations of H-2A workers' contracts; Redressing retaliation against workers who seek to assert their rights; Obtaining both damages and other civil relief and immigration status for victims of trafficking; Addressing discrimination against farmworkers by civil authorities and private entities, either on basis of status, race, religion, sex, ethnicity, or age or any other impermissible reason; Assisting farmworkers with representation in immigration matters including U visas, T visas, Labor Based Deferred Action (DALE), and Adjustments of Status to Permanent Residency; Representing workers to bring cases enforcing workers' employment rights, including the right to a safe workplace in accordance with OSHA and state workplace safety laws; and other meritorious cases that may significantly impact the special needs of migrant workers and meet the listed goals to the extent that resources allow for the representation of such cases.

Type of Business or Classification: 501C3

Notes: In addition to representing individual farmworkers, we: Perform extensive outreach and community education to farmworkers about their legal rights; Give free presentations to the public, in both small and large group settings, about farmworkers and the law; Provide information to both English and Spanish language media to educate the public about current issues affecting farmworkers; Invite interested people to join us for outreach to learn more about and connect with farmworkers; Advocate with government agencies for improved enforcement of laws and regulations protecting farmworkers; Provide information to farmworkers about using and coping with institutions in the United States, both public and private including the justice system, licensing and tax systems, services provided by state, county, local or federal governments, employment law principles, family and consumer law, education law, civil rights, public benefits, and housing; and provide farmworkers with information and referrals to other agencies and community organizations.

64. Legal Aid of North Carolina, Inc., Immigration Pathways for Victims (IMMPAV)

Statewide, Tier 2

Project Description: Immigration Pathways for Victims (IMMPAV) is a statewide project of Legal Aid of North Carolina that provides free immigration assistance to low-income immigrant victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, and human trafficking.

Service Area Covered: All 100 counties

HT Population Served: Income-eligible foreign national victims of sex trafficking and labor trafficking (Household income must be below 187.5% of the federal poverty guidelines.)

Direct Services Provided: IMMPAV provides immigration assistance to financially eligible victims of domestic violence, sexual assault and human trafficking. We assist clients with filing affirmative humanitarian immigration remedies including applications for T visas for victims of human trafficking, applications for U visas for victims of qualifying crimes who cooperate with law enforcement, and VAWA self-petitions for battered spouses of U.S. citizens and lawful permanent residents. We also file applications for employment authorization, and we assist T visa and U visa holders and VAWA self-petitioners with applications for adjustment of status to become lawful permanent residents. IMMPAV attorneys may provide limited removal defense for clients in immigration court proceedings. Our staff makes internal referrals to other Legal Aid practice areas as needed. (Legal Aid of NC provides free civil legal services in areas including housing, public benefits, family law, employment, and consumer among others).

Community Engagement: IMMPAV staff conducts outreach about our services and provides technical assistance to law enforcement and our collaborative partners. We also provide training about immigration remedies for survivors to agencies which work with survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault, and human trafficking.

Local Level Efforts (Task Forces, Coalitions, Local Government Efforts)

The local level efforts section consists of local level taskforces, local level coalitions and local level government efforts to address human trafficking across North Carolina. Task Forces are usually led by law enforcement agencies or District Attorney's office and coordinate investigations and other criminal justice responses for the purpose of successful prosecutions. These multi-disciplinary groups are different from RRTs because their main purpose is not to provide 24/7 victim response. Local Level Coalitions are comprised of individuals representing various agencies and disciplines working together to address human trafficking. In addition to victim services and allied service agencies, coalitions may include community partners focused on awareness, outreach, primary prevention, and other facets of a comprehensive response.
